Japan Fears Nationalist Terrorism

Anti-U.S. Leader Stabbed To Death By Young Fanatic

(Picture on page 2)
TOKYO (AP) — The assassination of the Socialist party chairman, Inejuro Asanuma, raised fears in this shocked nation Thursday that ultranationalist terrorism may again become a force in Japanese political life. The anti-American politician was stabbed to death Wednesday by a fanatical right-wing student.

The assassin, Oyoa Yamaguchi, 17, attacked Asanuma as he addressed a political meeting, stabbing him in the chest twice with a samurai sword.

Asanuma, an outspoken friend of Red China and militant foe of the U.S.-Japan military alliance, died en route to a hospital.

The youth, overpowered on the spot, later told police he considered the Socialist leader a traitor trying to sell out Japan to the Communists.

Crackdown Ordered

The government ordered an immediate crackdown on suspected terrorist organizations after 10,000 union members and leftist university students marched on police headquarters and the official residence of Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

About 500 of the marchers, hurling rocks at police, tried to break through the lines of guards. They were scattered without any serious violence.

The remainder of the crowd stood quietly and broke up after government officials promised to move swiftly to stamp out terrorism.

Police Stage Raids

Police staged a series of raids Wednesday night, including one on the headquarters of the Nazi-style Japan Patriotic Society. Yamaguchi had been a member of the organization until last May.

Asanuma's murder, the first involving a major Japanese political figure in 24 years, recalled the bloody era of "government by assassination" that raised militarists to power before World War II.

It was the third political stabbing by a right-wing fanatic in four months. The other victims, Socialist party official Jotaro Kawakami and the then Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, both survived. They were attacked during the outbreak of leftist riots last June and July against the new U.S.-Japan security pact.

Goldfine Held Incompetent To Stand Trial

BOSTON (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney Wednesday ruled industrialist Bernard Goldfine mentally incompetent to stand trial on income tax evasion charges and ordered him committed to custody of the attorney general until he is able to stand trial, or some other disposition is made of the case.

Judge Sweeney directed U.S. Marshal Ralph Gray to detain Goldfine at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Boston where he was examined last week by the three psychiatrists, and to keep him there until the attorney general directs his transfer to any other institution in compliance with the order.

Kennedy Charges Nixon 'Invites War' By Quemoy Stand

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy charged Wednesday night that Vice President Richard M. Nixon "invites war" by what he called the Republican's "trigger-happy leadership" on a commitment to defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

1st Add 1st Ld Kennedy 910

The Democratic presidential candidate pledged himself to "take whatever steps are necessary to defend American security and world freedom" but said he would "not risk American lives and a nuclear war" through "an unwise commitment" which has been held unsound and unnecessary by military experts.

Kennedy, in a speech prepared for delivery before a $100-a-plate dinner said the vice president "is all alone in his view" and that this country "would be all alone in war" if it followed Nixon's course. He said that only Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek shares Nixon's views on where the Formosan defense line should be drawn.

"That is a foolhardy and reckless decision," the Massachusetts senator declared. "If he followed through on it, it would mean a tragic disaster. If he backed down on it, it would mean retreat under Communist pressure."

Kennedy said he did not think the American people will accept such a position.

He added: "I do not think they will support such trigger-happy leadership. I believe they want peace — that they want us to make only those commitments that can be honored, which our allies will support and which we have the arms to back up."

As he did earlier in Pittsburgh, Kennedy said Nixon "boasts that he is a 'risk taker' abroad and a conservative at home." The senator said "but I am neither."

Kennedy again lit into Nixon for having said in their last television debate that "the people who live on these islands are not too important."

Kennedy said this country is not of the basement.

Boys, 5 And 3, Suffocate In Old Refrigerator

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two little boys playing in a neighbor's basement in suburban Dundalk suffocated Wednesday in an unused refrigerator.

Dennis Wheeler, 3, and Michael Gibbons, 5, were dead on arrival at City Hospitals.

Sgt. Harry Thuma of Baltimore County police said the two youngsters suffocated in the basement of Mrs. Alice Wilson's house while playing with her two young daughters.

Robert R. Martin, another 3-year-old who lives in the neighborhood, heard the Gibbons boys father calling him and told him both boys were asleep in Mrs. Wilson's basement.

The boys were found on the floor, outside the refrigerator. Artificial respiration was attempted. The Martin boy said the other two youngsters had fallen out when he opened the door and he thought they were asleep.

A search for the boys was begun in a large field near their homes, about an hour before they were found, because they had not returned home since going to Mrs. Wilson's in the morning.

Mrs. Wilson said the door of the refrigerator was against the wall.

Nixon Expected To Expand Asia Policy Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon seemed to be fighting his presidential campaign along the coast of Asia—and there are indications he'll expand his operations in that part of the world.

Nixon's advisers are convinced the vice president has hit a mother lode of pure political silver in the Quemoy and Matsu issue and that he has Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy at a disadvantage.

A source close to Nixon said he may follow up by trying to make another hot issue out of the recognition of Red China.

The whole sphere of Asian policy is certain to be thoroughly explored in Thursday night's third Nixon-Kennedy television debate.

Nixon got a strong reaction when he began attacking Kennedy on his position that the little Chinese Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu are not defensible and not worth risking a world war over.

Nixon said not one inch of free territory should be handed over to the Communists and that Quemoy and Matsu would only whet the appetite of the Chinese Reds for the Nationalist stronghold island of Formosa.

The vice president scheduled a long day of taping TV appearances and folksy campaigning at picnic outings in the suburban areas of Los Angeles. But he's working hours with his staff preparing for the debate. He's set aside the whole day to prepare for the encounter, which will find Nixon on one side of the TV screen from here and Kennedy speaking from New York.

The thinking in the Nixon camp on Quemoy and Matsu is this: It is an issue that has suddenly struck fire in an otherwise rather automated campaign.

It is an issue that finds Kennedy trying to defend a theory that while a line of defense should be drawn around Formosa, it should not be drawn around vulnerable little Quemoy and Matsu just off the mouth of a Red Chinese harbor.

Nixon got a noisy reception when he landed at Burbank late Tuesday night, starting three days of campaign in his heavily populated home grounds. It was in a constituency near Los Angeles that Nixon got his start as a freshman congressman.

Socialist 'Salesman' Rescued From Mob

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police and a K-9 Corps dog Wednesday dispersed a jeering mob of 300 high school students who crowded around a man distributing Socialist pamphlets.

The police, newsmen and photographers became a target for jeers and rocks after the former teacher, A. Robert Kaufman, was in whistled away in a patrol car.

Last Friday he was fined $25 for selling a Socialist newspaper without a license and was fined $30 and given 30 days in jail on tin, 35, after two years of marriage.

She and her first husband, George Metelious, also 35, were remarrying the following day in Elton, Md., she said.

The plumpish writer of novels with a strong sex theme was divorced in Laconia, N.H., last Friday from disc jockey T. J. Martini, 35, after two years of marriage.

Times Square Bomber Strikes Again; 27 Hurt

NEW YORK (AP)—A holiday explosion in New York's busiest subway terminal, beneath Times Square, injured at least 27 persons Wednesday. It was caused by a homemade bomb, the third planted within a two-block midtown radius in 11 days.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy withheld for several hours an official explanation of the blast, although his experts from the beginning termed it a bomb. He finally announced an explosive force apparently had been hidden behind a do-it-yourself photo snapshot machine in the subway station.

Momentary Panic

Even as the pungent, pervading odor of the explosive still hung in the labyrinth of underground subway arcades, Kennedy ordered a force of special plainclothesmen into key areas that might be future bomb targets.

A gush of black smoke and a wave of momentary panic rolled across the subway terminal to gather as the explosion went off at 3:25 p.m.—a merciful margin of two hours in advance of the evening rush. Women screamed as they were knocked down by the blast.

Of the injured, one was reported in serious condition. He was the conductor of a Times Square shuttle train that was unloading near the blast center. Its passengers bore the brunt of the explosive shock.

Two Run From Scene

Transit Authority Inspector Patrick J. Coughlin, 49, told police he saw two young men with blackened faces running from the scene and overheard one of them say: "We got too close. I lost my hat." Coughlin said the other replied: "I lost my hat, too."

The common denominator in both previous bomb explosions has been eyewitness reports of a pair of youths fleeing the scene. The first, Sunday Oct. 2, injured seven persons above ground in Times Square. The second occurred last Sunday two blocks away outside the Public Library at 42nd St. and Fifth Ave. It caused no injuries.

Seaman Who Fled Baltika Wins Asylum

NEW YORK (AP)—The seaman who fled Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's ship, the Baltika, two days ago won political asylum in the United States Wednesday—and with it the freedom he sought.

The seaman, Victor Jaanimets, was allowed to leave the U.S. Immigration Service offices where he had been held pending determination of his status and background.

The decision was announced by P. A. Esperdy, district director of the service.

Esperdy said he made the decision after consulting with his superiors in Washington.

The International Rescue Committee has been selected as sponsor for Jaanimets to "look after his welfare and get him settled," Esperdy said.

Asked whether a guard would be provided to protect the seaman from possible reprisal by Soviet agents, Esperdy said: "Definitely not."

Khrushchev himself shrugged off the seaman's defection.

"He either lost his way or he wanted to stay," Khrushchev told a sidewalk news conference outside his Park Avenue residence.

"If he does, it's all right with me. If he had approached me—I was on the same ship—I would have furnished him with some money for the first period until he finds a job."

Congolese Leaders Threaten To Break Relations With U.N.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congo's young leaders threatened to break relations with the United Nations Wednesday because the world body still refuses to turn over deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Few observers dared guess what would happen next in the stalemate. Hostility toward whites increased and relations between the provisional Congo government and the United Nations grew worse by the hour.

The College of Technical Commissioners, appointed by army chief Col. Joseph Mobutu to run the government, threatened to halt U.N. broadcasts over Leopoldville radio.

"The United Nations makes fun of our national army," said Information Commissioner Albert Bolela. "If they intend to impose their trusteeship on us, let them say so."

Europeans driving past Lumumba's mansion, which encircled soldiers have made his prison, met a hail of stones from angry Lumumba followers.

The luxurious riverside villa is the center of a swarming beehive. Around the house is a ring of U.N. Ghana machine-gunners, there to guard Lumumba and stop any try at serving him with an arrest warrant.

Around them is a second ring made up of Congo army troops. They also want Lumumba bottled up, while the government commission and the United Nations decide what to do about the deposed premier. The commission wants him arrested for illegal political activities.

Beyond these rings are scores of Lumumba supporters, denied access to their favorite. It was this crowded mass that hurled stones at passing cars, inflicting no serious injury or damage.

The Congolese renewed accusations that the United Nations is partial to Lumumba.

Argentine Chief Weathers Coup Plot; Won't Quit

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—President Arturo Frondizi appeared on Wednesday to have weathered a major political crisis with a dramatic radio appeal for popular support against a plot to overthrow his regime.

The president told the nation in a mid-day broadcast that unidentified forces were seeking his overthrow, but he emphasized that he would not succumb to pressure and resign "under any circumstances."

Frondizi did not identify the "tiny segment" of the populace he said wanted to overthrow the government, but he was believed to be referring to leaders within the armed forces who have expressed dissatisfaction with his policies.

He defended his program "to carry the country forward" as well as his acceptance of foreign investment funds for national development.

The Frondizi appeal appeared to have capped, at least temporarily, rising discontent within the armed forces on government policies ranging from acceptance of outside investment capital to alleged "softness" on Communist infiltration and attempts to merge outlawed political parties with the radical intransigent party.

Bostonian, Seven Cubans Receive Death Sentences

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—A military tribunal Wednesday night sentenced Anthony Zarba of Boston and seven Cubans to death before a firing squad.

HAVANA (AP)—The Castro regime Wednesday demanded death for a Bostonian and seven Cubans in a rebel expeditionary force that landed last week on the northeast coast. The man from Boston is Anthony Zarba, 27, on trial at Santiago, in eastern Cuba before a military court.

At Santa Clara, the Cuban press said Pecoraro insisted he came to Cuba simply to see what is going on.

Pecoraro was swept up in a roundup of suspected counter-revolutionaries.

The prosecution at Santa Clara demanded death for six leaders in the big group but asked only a 5- to 20-year prison sentence for the New Yorker, Richard Pecoraro of Staten Island.

At Santiago, Zarba admitted taking part in the expedition into eastern Cuba, said he tried to pull out at the last moment, and was sorry for what he had done.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

— An uproarious debate over colonialism exploded Wednesday night into an unprecedented table-thumping U.N. General Assembly session highlighted by Soviet Premier Khrushchev waving his shoe in the air.

It broke up in complete disorder when assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, angered over the wildest scene in the history of the United Nations, shattered his gavel in bringing the session to an end.

Khrushchev staged one of his most bewildering displays, amazing the assembly by calling a fellow delegate a jerk and a stooge, and at one point banging the desk with his shoe.

The final explosion came after a Romanian delegate accused the assembly president of being unfair toward the Soviet bloc.

The stunned delegates found the meeting over before they realized what was happening.

Informed sources said the United States was on the point of agreeing to full assembly debate on the colonial issue—as demanded by Khrushchev—when the Communists' behavior caused Boland to end the session for Wednesday night.

Tumultuous Scene

The adjournment, in a scene of unprecedented disorder, came as the delegates were nearing a vote on a Soviet resolution to give a full assembly airing to a proposal for full independence for all colonies. It might have been the first successful purely Soviet resolution in U.N. history.

The gavel fell apart from the strength of Boland's blows as he rapped for attention to announce: "Because of the scene you have just witnessed, I think the assembly had better adjourn."

Premier Khrushchev began the tumultuous proceedings with one of his most amazing shows. At one point he even had his shoe in his hand, ready to bang his desk with it in protest.

At another he called a delegate from the Philippines the Soviet equivalent of "jerk."

The final uproar in an afternoon of uproars caught U.S. Delegate Francis O. Wilcox on his feet, attempting to reply to Soviet- and Communist-bloc tirades.

Wilcox was supporting the view of the Philippines delegate—whose statement had sparked the riotous proceedings—that the Soviet Union dominates Eastern Europe.

The angry U.N. president got a five-minute ovation from the delegates.

Back at his delegation headquarters on Park Avenue, Khrushchev sought to dismiss the whole affair as humorous.

"The main instrument of the president of the General Assembly broke. He rapped his gavel and it broke. How can he proceed without a gavel?"

Here is how the sudden adjournment came about: Wilcox had reached this point in his remarks: "Everyone here in this assembly is fully aware of the sad fact there are a number of states in Eastern Europe which do not have their complete independence."

Truman Says Critics Could 'Go To Hell'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, target of Republican criticism for give-em-hell campaigning in Texas, said Wednesday his critics could also go to hell.

Truman came here by plane for an overnight visit with friends before departing Thursday for campaign talks in North Carolina and Virginia.

"I'm having a good time," Truman told newsmen and a welcoming contingent of friends at the airport. He was jaunty in a gray single-breasted suit with a gray hat cocked over one eye.

Asked if he had been challenged on his statement in Texas that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, never told the truth in his life, Truman said: "Not that I've heard of. They can't challenge that."

Jazzman Satchmo Finds Diplomacy Has Its Pitfalls

LONDON (AP)—Jazzman Louis Satchmo Armstrong discovered Wednesday that diplomacy is tougher than playing the trumpet.

Heading for Africa on a State Department tour as America's unofficial ambassador, Armstrong interrupted his flight to Ghana to get some sleep and have lunch with U.S. Minister Walworth Barbour, a diplomat on the embassy staff here.

"Do you know Mr. Barbour?" asked a reporter at a news conference.

"Sure, sure," replied the 60-year-old native of New Orleans, La. "I played with him once at a concert at the Crystal Palace."

This was followed by an awful silence.

Hammarhjold Plans Trip To South Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold told the Security Council Wednesday he hoped to visit South Africa next January to look into South Africa's apartheid policies and see whether they violated human rights.

The Security Council asked Hammarskjold to go last summer but the Congo crisis forced him to postpone the visit. A new invitation was issued Sept. 28 by Eric Louw, South African foreign minister.

Prehistoric Tomb Found In W. Virginia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Smithsonian Institution has discovered a large tomb in West Virginia built by a prehistoric Indian tribe that once lived in the Ohio River Valley.

The institution said an excavation near New Martinsville uncovered three skeletons under a tomb consisting of hundreds of tons of dirt.

It said articles found in the tomb indicated one of those buried there must have been a witch doctor.

The tomb was similar to those uncovered at Grave Creek and Miamisburg in Ohio and several found at Moundsville, W. Va.

They were believed built by the Adena Indians whose culture thrived in the valley from about 800 B.C. to 300 A.D.

The announcement said the bodies in the New Martinsville tomb were interred with their personal belongings and ceremonial apparel. They were surrounded by log and brick structures.

Frank M. Setzler, the Smithsonian's curator of anthropology, excavated the tomb. He said it was 110 feet in diameter and 14 feet high.

Setzler said one of those in the tomb appeared to have been buried in the ceremonial mask and robes of a witch doctor.

He said the most unusual object uncovered was a six-inch long tobacco pipe "skillfully carved" in the shape of a duck.

Bonn Puts Secret Label On Cheap Atomic Process

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government said Wednesday it has agreed to a U.S. request to keep secret new developments in methods for refining raw materials used in nuclear weapons.

Foreign Office and Atomic Energy Ministry spokesmen said the developments are based on the so-called ultracentrifugal process.

The development had raised fears in Washington that fissionable uranium could be made cheaply enough for a dozen or more nations to manufacture their own atomic bombs.

"The theory of the centrifuge is known to everybody, including the Soviet Union," the spokesmen said at a news conference. "However, German scientists have developed an apparatus, the knowledge of which should be kept from countries who might want to use it for military purposes."

For that reason, they said, the Bonn government complied with the recent American request to put a secret label on the new process.

Boland

Eduard Mezincescu, protested Bolland asked Wilcox to stand aside while the Romanian replied. On the rostrum, the Romanian made a remark about Ireland and its former colonial status under England.

The byplay was not on the sound system, and many could not understand the drama going on in the assembly.

Bolland had no comment on the uproar, but an associate said he adjourned the meeting because of the behavior of the Romanian delegate, the banging of the rostrum by the Romanian, and a "reference to the chair."

The Romanian delegate apparently made a remark indicating he believed Bolland was partial to the non-Communists.

Many delegates expressed shock.

Ambassador Mongi Slim of Tunisia, who is a member of the Asian-African bloc, said the performance of the Communists was a "scandal," and deplored any questioning of the president's impartiality.

U.S. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, a member of the U.S. delegation, offered this explanation of Communist actions: "I think it's because we have bared their most sensitive nerve."

The assembly meets again at 10:30 a.m. Thursday to resume discussion of the Soviet proposal.

The wild incidents began when Philippine Delegate Lorenzo Sumulong, commenting on the Soviet colonial proposal, demanded freedom for all countries under Soviet domination as well. Actually he was supporting the resolution but seeking to broaden it.

Khrushchev demanded recognition, got it, and strode to the rostrum, his face a thundercloud. He denounced the Philippines delegate in a Russian word "khuloy," rendered by the interpreter as "jerk."

"This jerk—this stooge of American imperialism—he is obviously touching on matters which are not procedural and the president is obviously not stopping him. Is that justice?"

The question before the assembly was a procedural one—whether the assembly should discuss the Soviet colonialism proposal or refer it to the Political Committee.

British Parties Split On Atom

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP)—The ruling Conservative party Wednesday overwhelmingly supported Britain's independent nuclear deterrent and called for a stronger North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

This decision was taken by a party conference which suggested that London's ties with Washington, Paris, Bonn and other Western capitals be even closer than they are now.

With only one dissenting vote out of 4,000, the conference endorsed the basic defense and diplomatic policies of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government.

The delegates emphatically dissociated themselves from the "ban-the-bomb" movement—an emotion-laden campaign aimed at getting Britain to give up its own atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Advocates of nuclear disarmament won their point in the Labor party conference held in the same Scarborough hall last week. But they made no impact at all on the Conservatives.

As a result of the decisions by the two party conferences an odd three-way split on the nuclear question now has developed in the political life of this island nation.

The Conservatives support the need for Britain to keep its own nuclear weapons. The moderate Laborites, led by opposition leader Hugh Gaitskill, also believe in an independent British deterrent with some qualifications.

But the Labor party's left wing now is actively campaigning against possession of the bomb and against Britain's continued membership in NATO.

Farm Surplus Total Reaches $8.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government had $8,826,198,000 tied up in price-supported surplus farm commodities on Aug. 31, the Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

This amounted to about $50 for each man, woman and child in the country. It also was an increase of more than $160 million over the previous month.

The department's monthly report served to point up the farm problem as a key issue in the presidential campaign. Both Democrat John Kennedy and Republican Richard M. Nixon have listed it high on their roster of domestic issues.

The government's Aug. 31 investment was made up of $7,259,664,000 in commodities owned outright by the Commodity Credit Corp. and $1,566,534,000 in outstanding loans on farm products still held by growers. A year ago the total investment was $8,757,272,000.

Wheat accounted for nearly half of the federal investment. The government owned outright nearly 1.2 billion bushels worth slightly more than $3 billion. It held loans on 310 million bushels valued at more than $532 million.

Corn held in storage totaled 1.2 billion bushels worth $2.12 billion. The cotton inventory consisted of 4.9 million bales valued at $865 million. No loans were reported. Grain sorghums in inventory totaled 317 million hundredweight valued at $840 million. Grain sorghums under loan totaled 12 million hundredweight valued at about $20 million.

Loans on 622 million pound of tobacco amounted to almost $389 million. The net realized loss on price support programs for the first two months of the new fiscal year totaled $61 million, as against $96 million in the comparable period last year.

In another report, the government said it bought 64,162,816 pounds of non-fat dry milk during September, but no butter and cheese. In September 1959, purchases included 3,957,469 pounds of cheese and 23,300,192 pounds of non-fat dry milk.

During the month the government sold 16.4 million pounds of butter and disposed of 69.7 million pounds of non-fat dry milk. The non-fat dry milk disposals included donations abroad of 45.8 million pounds.

The government now owns 16.7 million pounds of butter and 271 million pounds of non-fat dry milk. It does not own any cheese. As a drink, chocolate has been used since the discovery of America.

Wall Street Views

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Caution has become a popular word on Wall Street as analysts attempt to figure out a puzzling stock market. Typical of the comments Tuesday was that from Investors Advisory Institute, Inc., which said, "At present a policy of caution is still in order."

"New commitments should be undertaken on a highly selective basis only, and strictly within the framework of specific individual investment objectives." "Essentially our policy of caution is based on the softening business outlook and the fact that the market as a whole has not yet fully reflected this softness."

Spear and Staff Inc. said: "We continue to believe that a reasonably cautious attitude is the best policy until there is more conclusive proof that support has been firmly established."

"We are very far from being pessimistic as things stand now and we are inclined to believe that the inventory cutback, which is at the root of our troubles, may be nearing its finish."

Waiter Maynard of Shearson, Hammett & Co. thought, "Inventory reduction—or a cessation in inventory accumulation—cannot under present circumstances really proceed very long or very far because consumer incomes remain at record levels."

Maynard said he felt "the time has now come for investors to take a more constructive attitude toward the security markets."

But he added: "It would still seem premature for cyclical industries to be chosen; rather, attention should be concentrated on industries which benefit from high consumer incomes and the tendency of consumers to spend an increasing proportion of incomes on services."

Trendex Research Group said: "There is still a strong likelihood that the next great upward sweep in stock prices will come through a fear of money and not from any dramatic upturn in industrial production."

Protest Neo-Fascists

ROME (UPI)—Austria has filed a protest to Italy against demonstrations by neo-Fascist students outside the Austrian consulate. The students, protesting Austrian claims to the South Tyrol region, tore down the consulate's coat of arms and tried to break into the building. The territory has been Italy's since the end of World War I.

Demo Caravan To Begin State-Wide Tour Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Democratic campaign caravan led by Gov. Tawes will launch its state-wide tour of Maryland on Thursday with a 12-stop swing through Baltimore County.

Leaving party headquarters at the Emerson Hotel in downtown Baltimore at about 9:15 a.m., the busload of party leaders is due at Towson Plaza Shopping Center 30 minutes later.

Before winding up at a rally in Overlea at 9 p.m., the caravan is also scheduled to have visited five other shopping centers and the business districts of Pikesville, Dundalk and Essex.

Other stops include a cocktail party in the Overlea area and dinner at an Essex inn, where the Kiwanis Club has invited the group to watch the third in the series of televised debates between the major presidential candidates, Democrat John F. Kennedy and Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Besides Tawes, the party will include Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, State Party Chairman Thomas B. Finan, Rep. Daniel B. Brewster and Maryland National Committeeman Michael J. Birmingham.

Christian H. Kahl, Baltimore County chief executive, had been scheduled to accompany the group but will be unable to do so because of a virus attack, a headquarters spokesman said.

River Compact "X" On Sample Ballot Opposed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hyman Pressman said Wednesday the presidential candidacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy could suffer "a devastating effect" because of Democratic sample ballots favoring ratification of a new Maryland-Virginia Potomac River Compact.

Pressman, a Baltimore lawyer, noted an announcement that the Democratic State Central Committee of Maryland plans to mark the ballots "for" on the compact question.

"This is an extremely controversial issue which will not be marked either way on the Republican sample ballots," Pressman said in a letter to Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson.

"Thirteen thousand voters in St. Marys, Charles, Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties and in Baltimore City signed the petition for the referendum," he said. This referred to action taken by opponents of the new compact to prevent its becoming effective after it was ratified by the 1959 legislature.

"As one of the attorneys for the watermen in St. Marys and Charles counties, who are violently opposed to the pact, I can tell you this action will have a devastating effect on the voters in those counties," Pressman wrote. He urged Jackson to persuade the party committee to omit the Potomac Compact question from the Democratic sample ballot.

The compact to be voted on in the Nov. 8 election was drafted by a bi-state committee to replace an agreement in effect between the two States since 1787. It would set up a joint authority over fishing and seafood conservation practices in the river, which belongs to Maryland up to the low-water mark on the Virginia shore.

Oil Research Tests Set At Morgantown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines research center at Morgantown, W. Va. has been selected for a series of tests to increase production of Pennsylvania grade crude oil.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-WVa., said Wednesday the tests will involve the reservoir of high grade Pennsylvania crude found in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky.

Production of Pennsylvania crude declined from more than 20 million barrels in 1949 to 12 million in 1959, resulting in a loss of some 35 million dollars, Staggers' aides said.

The tests have two aims: Determine the volume of oil now in the reservoir, and seek additional recovery techniques to increase production.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles H. Smith, 37-year-old painter was sentenced Wednesday to a year in the House of Correction for beating his 11-year-old daughter with a belt.

Magistrate Jerome A. Dashner termed Smith an "animal" in giving him the jail term.

Police said Smith, father of six, beat the girl and made her sit with her nose pressed against the kitchen wall of their home because she skipped school.

The child had a lump on her forehead, and bruises on the face, right ear, thighs and back.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Robert R. Paugh, 36, was crushed to death under the wheels of the fork lift he was operating at the Chesapeake Paper Box Co. plant Tuesday night.

Police said Paugh, father of eight, collided with a tractor-trailer, was knocked from his seat and fell under the lift.

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — George F. Fockler, president of the Washington County Board of Commissioners, was found dead on the lawn of his home west of Hagerstown Wednesday. He was 53.

Death apparently was caused by a heart attack.

Fockler was serving his second term as a commissioner.

He is survived by his widow.

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — About 150 Maryland plumbers will lay down their tools Oct. 21 and gather in Hagerstown for their annual convention.

The meeting of the Associated Plumbers Contractors of Maryland will continue through Oct. 23.

The principal speaker will be R.S. Doherty of Decatur, Ill., president of the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Noise From Planes Disrupts Classes

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — The Prince Georges County School Board will investigate complaints that noise from planes based at Andrews Air Force Base disrupts programs at three schools.

Action was agreed on after Frank A. Aussier, president of the Forestville Citizens Association, said students sometimes cringe when a low-flying plane goes over the Forestville Elementary School.

Automatic Pay Hikes Opposed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Commission on Governmental Efficiency and Economy Wednesday advocated the abolition of a Baltimore city policy of automatic pay increases for all merit system workers.

In a report, the group also urged cost of living wage hikes for municipal workers when the consumer price index changes "five or so points."

The report noted that the local index had gone up more than six points since the last municipal base pay raise in 1957.

Incentive pay hikes should be substituted for the automatic pay increases, the commission said.

The commission, a privately-sponsored group keeping an eye on city spending, said it was time to end the "indiscriminate giving of annual salary increments on a horizontal wholesale basis to all employees without regard for merit or worth."

City Budget Director Charles L. Benton previously recommended a flat 5 per cent living cost increase for all city employees except teachers, librarians, firemen and police. He proposed a 10 per cent boost for firemen and police and none for the teachers and librarians since they received increases recently.

Jobs For Retired Cops Advocated

BALTIMORE (AP) — Councilman Peter G. Angelos said Wednesday he will sponsor legislation to permit the employment of retired Baltimore policemen as investigators of welfare fraud cases.

Angelos will introduce an amendment to the city pension law which would allow the retired policemen to continue receiving their pensions.

At present, the pensions come from a special fund and must be surrendered if the policemen rejoin the city payroll.

Angelos said the former officers are reluctant to accept employment as fraud investigators at pay which wouldn't justify surrender of their pensions.

Maryland was named for Queen Henrietta Maria, wife of Charles I of England.

Western Maryland Improving Luke Yard

The Western Maryland Railway wood yard of the Luke Mill of the Company has a $4,000,000 project West Virginia Pulp and Paper. well under way at West Virginia Sidney W. George, Western Junction in the vicinity of the new Division engineer, said the additions to the yard are made necessary by the increased production at the mill. Additional shipping is anticipated ed when the two new paper machines now under construction are put into use.

Four new yard tracks running from the Bloomington bridge to the eastern end of the yard are being installed.

Turnouts and crossovers are being re-arranged for greater flexibility of operation, the division engineer explained.

In the process of construction is a new train order office at the east end of the yard together with new sand facilities.

A conventional 70-foot track scale will be added and the engine house will be relocated, he added.

Work was started on the yard expansion by Western Maryland crews in August and the project is expected to be completed by the first of the year.

George said the mill's wood yard is being relocated from the Maryland side of the Potomac River to the West Virginia side in the along side West Virginia Junction yards.

There will be two chipping machines instead of one to meet the increased demand for wood pulp.

The pulp wood will be received by truck and by rail and when chipped will be blown through pipes into the mill.

TAX BURDEN

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Commerce Clearing House here reports that for the fiscal year ending last June 30 the per capita state tax burden amounted to $101.72, a 13.7 per cent increase over the previous year.

State tax collections for the fiscal year were over $18 billion, up more than $2 billion, it said, with no state showing a decrease in total collections and only two states, Massachusetts and New Mexico, showing a lower per capita tax burden.

Nixon Winner In Allegany Mock Election

Richard Nixon, Republican presidential nominee led victoriously in a mock-election sponsored by Allegany High School's Student Council Tuesday with pupils through grades nine to twelve participating.

There were 642 votes for Vice President Nixon and 384 votes for Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

A study of politics and the two major parties had been discussed thoroughly prior to the election. Chairmen of the project were Karen Holbrook and Davene Sheehee, senators of the Student Council.

The senior and junior high council assembled for their first regular meeting last week under the direction of Tim Barnes, president, of senior high student council.

Junior council chairmen and secretary appointed by the Senate are John Koegel and Jane Runion respectively.

A report was delivered by Elaine Solomon and Mary Lou Fridinger concerning the Maryland Student Council convention they attended last summer. They brought back useful ideas and suggestions to improve the council.

NOW! change to automatic GAS HEAT!

Here are 8 Good Reasons Why:

1. CONVENIENT! No furnace tending. No fuel handling. No fuel storage. Does away with fuel bins, tanks and ash cans.
2. CLEAN! Gas is a pure concentrated fuel. All impurities removed. Less housework and cleaning bills.
3. DEPENDABLE! No motor or fuel pump for a gas burner. That means less service calls.
4. HEALTHFUL! Gas provides even heat and clean, fresh air. Saves doctor bills. Your family will be healthier.
5. QUIET! Gas heating is your silent servant 24 hours a day. No noise to disturb your waking or sleeping hours.
6. RUGGED! Simple design of a gas burner means less wear and tear—longer life and less depreciation.
7. COMPACT! With gas heating you have more room for basement work and play.
8. NO HIDDEN COSTS! With gas you pay for fuel only. No "hidden" operating costs. Lowest maintenance cost.

TAKE YOUR TIME!

The 15 minutes or so that it takes to fill your prescription may be the most important you have ever spent. When your pharmacist tells you "This will take about 15 minutes" he isn't stalling. The simplest prescription, say for tablets that are transferred from a big bottle to a smaller bottle must be given a number and entered in a separate file. Identity and strength of the drugs must be checked. Some prescriptions require several ingredients that must be measured precisely, weighed, heated, chilled, or subject to a manufacturing process. The pharmacist must prepare a label containing the prescription number, date, name and address of patient, and important how to take instructions. Give him time to give you good pharmaceutical service. At Walsh-McCagh you can be assured that our three pharmacists will fill your prescription just as quickly as your safety and health will permit—and of course always at Walsh-McCagh extra low prices.

W.Va. GOP Leaders Seek Details Of Slander Suit

By FRED FERRIS
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Republican leaders said Wednesday they plan to continue to try to dig up details of the out-of-court settlement of the $300,000 Barron-Skeen slander suit.

And as the running controversy continued to generate considerable steam in the election campaign, Democratic gubernatorial nominee W. W. Barron accused the GOP leadership of attempting through prying into the case to "create a smokescreen to cover up its betrayal of the public trust."

Barron made his charge at a Democratic rally in Sutton a few hours after GOP State Chairman Daniel L. Louchery accused him and State Treasurer Orel J. Skeen in similar terms.

At a news conference in Charleston, Louchery said the two Democratic officials were trying to "draw a mantle of secrecy" over their settlement.

The suit grew out of Skeen's pre-primary election allegation last May that Barron offered him $65,000 to stay out of the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. The settlement was announced last Friday.

Barron denied in his Sutton speech that there was any cover-up attempt, and insisted "terms of such settlements are seldom revealed."

As an example, he cited a libel suit by James M. Donohoe, Huntington, one-time president of the now defunct State Board of Control against Gov. Cecil H. Underwood shortly before Underwood's election in 1956.

This case also never came to trial and Barron noted that Underwood "never divulged the terms of the settlement he offered Mr. Donohoe."

At a joint news conference in Charleston, Louchery and GOP

State Executive Committee counsel William Largent, Morgantown, said Largent would pursue efforts to discover terms of the Barron-Skeen settlement even though they "recognize the fact that we have no legal right to move in and investigate."

Along this line, Barron said he is "amazed by Republican disrespect for our courts." He described as "crude" the action in having Largent investigate the case.

"When a law suit is settled, it is settled," Barron said. "This is just another GOP effort to deceive and mislead the people of our state."

Claims Vindication

Largent said he felt the state executive committee as a statutory body has "some legal common law rights to investigate." He admitted, however, that he would have to rely largely "on cooperation of the parties involved."

Barron insisted that statements he and Skeen issued after announcement of the settlement explained "exactly what happened" and that Skeen "completely vindicated me."

Louchery maintained the suit should have been allowed to go to trial so state citizens "would have had the facts," or Skeen "should have withdrawn his charges, saying that his statements were falsely made."

"Skeen has not retracted his statement to the extent of saying it was false and did not indicate that he did not tell the truth," said Louchery.

Neely Asks Airing

Republican gubernatorial candidate Harold E. Neely had asked to invade Charleston Thursday for the opening of the West Virginia Education Association's 96th annual convention.

It means a four-day week end for public school students while the teachers are attending meetings here Thursday and Friday.

Among name speakers will be author and educator Max Lerner, professor of American civilization at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass.

Other out-of-state colleges and universities to be represented by guest speakers are Boston University, Purdue, Ohio State, Tennessee, Ohio University, Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., Missouri, South Florida University, Penn State and Wisconsin.

Representatives from most colleges in West Virginia, as well as the university, also will be on hand.

In conjunction with the convention will be meetings of several adjunct groups.

At the last biennial one-site state convention in 1958, the association decided to take a more active part in politics and indicated it might give outright endorsement of candidates. So far it has not done this publicly, and it was not disclosed whether Nov. 8 general election endorsements might be made during this meeting.

Among speakers at various sectional meetings will be Dr. Roderick F. McPhee, secretary for the Advancement of School Administration and the American Association of School Administrators at the Dr. Dugald S. Arbuckle, professor of education at Boston University.

Wins Suggestion Award

James F. Strausburg, right, receives a check for $263 from William E. Crooks, plant manager of the Celanese Fibers Company, while William P. Durland, purchasing superintendent, looks on. Mr. Strausburg's suggestion was a method of improving 330 acres of Celanese-owned timberland across McMullen Highway from the Amcelle plant. The Maryland Department of Forests and Parks is supervising removal of defective and over-mature trees. Mr. Strausburg, supervisor of the packaging laboratory at the plant, has been working at Amcelle 34 years. He and his wife and two sons live at 526 Pearre Avenue.

In conjunction with the convention will be meetings of several adjunct groups.

Miss Schwarzenbach:
A Valued Leader

It was with a sense of real loss that Cumberlanders read yesterday of the passing of one of the community's best known and most admired women, Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach.

For many years it has been practically impossible to think of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children—or, indeed, of any work involving assistance to physically handicapped children—without thinking at the same time of Miss Schwarzenbach. For it was Miss Schwarzenbach who founded the League twenty-six years ago, and who provided the energy and leadership that saw the organization through difficult times. Miss Schwarzenbach became president of the League when it was organized, and the League's members expressed the community's appreciation of her work by retaining her, year after year, as their president.

When, a little more than a year ago, the League for Crippled Children celebrated its silver jubilee, a vice president of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults presented Miss Schwarzenbach with a medal for her twenty-five years of devoted service to children who needed help. Nobody questioned that she had more than earned the medal.

In addition to her work with the League, she was active in other causes dedicated to the relief of suffering, chief among them the auxiliaries of the two local hospitals.

Now that she is gone, it remains for others to carry forward the good work which Miss Schwarzenbach started and which she did so well for so many years in all of these organizations. Her many friends, and all those who admired her efforts, will want to do this.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What Is The Cold War

Khrushchev, it appears, lost the 1960 battle in the General Assembly of the United Nations. That does not at all mean that he lost the Cold War.

The nature of war has changed radically in recent years. When we think of war, what arises in our memories is shot and shell, cities destroyed, human beings left homeless, blood and death on all sides.

Today war is continuous. It utilizes altogether new techniques, not only such as missiles, rockets, biological and chemical devices, but since one of the objects of wars, as Clausewitz, the greatest theoretician of war, has pointed out, is for one nation to impose its will upon another, technical methods have been devised to achieve this without shot and shell.

Clausewitz makes the point:

"... War is an act of force, and to the application of that force there is no limit. Each of the adversaries forces the hand of the other, and a reciprocal action results which in theory can have no limit ..."

But force is of many natures. For instance, the systematic destruction of the value of a people is a more subtle form of force than killing a division of men, but it nonetheless is an act of war. Soviet Russia, which has adopted what has come to be called Aesopian language, uses the word peace to describe warlike acts which are of the new techniques that do not require shot and shell. For instance, intellectual subversion, which is a method for changing the thought processes of generations, is a technique of war. Its object is to destroy the will to resist an enemy.

Karl von Clausewitz states that war is a political act. Even more, he found the law that war is a political act but that it is one that is carried out by other means. He said:

"... What now still remains peculiar to war relates merely to the peculiar character of the means it uses. The art of war in general and the commander in each particular case can demand that the tendencies and designs of policy shall be not incompatible with these means, and the claim is certainly no trifling one.

"But however powerfully it may react on political designs in particular cases, still it must always be regarded as only a modification of them; for the political design is the object, while war is the means, and the means can never be thought of apart from the object."

Clausewitz has had an enormous influence upon Russian thinking and in the development of the Cold War, his classic on war has served them as a guide. For the Cold War is nothing more than war by wholly new methods and by old methods adapted to new times.

Khrushchev came to this session of the General Assembly of the United Nations not to discuss the China question or disarmament or the future of Dag Hammarskjöld but to fight a battle of the Cold War, as he did in Paris. His immediate objective was to impress the small nations, particularly those of Africa and Asia, with the strength of Soviet Russia and the futility of the United States. He brought with him all his pro-consuls and added to them the mighty neutrals who live in fear of his power. It was a very impressive performance which Khrushchev spoiled by his natural vulgarity. Nevertheless, the impression he made may be advantageous next year.

Khrushchev is more able in directing the Cold War than Stalin was. Stalin was a revolutionist who only understood direct and immediate action. Khrushchev is a product of a post-revolutionary era and his techniques are less sudden. He is in no hurry. As he is conducting a war, he recognizes that it is important to win a battle; it is only important to win the war.

Success in war means the total destruction of an enemy's will to resist. Khrushchev understands that economic warfare can lead to more permanent destruction of the will to resist than a military battle. In the present situation in the United States, for instance, gold is a superior weapon to a bomb; or if it is a bomb we think significant, the Congo is worth more than East Germany, for the Congo's minerals, particularly uranium, are invaluable.

It is necessary to recognize the nature of the Cold War to understand what is happening.

Hoping The New Missionary Won't Be Tough

Kennedy Wrong About Abstainers' Positions

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Unless Senator Kennedy repudiates the speech he made at Salem, Ohio, over the weekend, he may, if elected President of the United States, find that he has embarrassed his own government.

For Mr. Kennedy took the position that, when a country "abstains" from voting on an issue in the United Nations General Assembly, it is "against" the proposition under consideration. He said:

"Out of the 24 nations on the newest continent (Africa), 22 were against us."

But 14 of these 22 votes, it so happened, were from countries that had "abstained" from taking a position either way on the pending motion to start debate on the admission of Red China. Since when is a member of any organization governed by parliamentary rules — including the United States Senate — to be regarded as voting "against" when the record is "present but not voting"?

Looking over the full list of 22 countries that "abstained," it will be noted that Israel and Portugal, for instance, were among them. Can it be said that Israel has deserted the United States and favors the position of the Soviet Union just because of a declaration to vote for or against this resolution?

The record since 1952 shows that the United States has mustered between 42 and 47 votes each year against debate on a resolution to admit Red China to the U. N. This year the vote in support of the United States position was 42, which is exactly what it was in 1952 at the height of the Korean war, when Red China was fighting the United Nations armies. Can it be said that the position of the United States, therefore, on this particular motion has really weakened, as Senator Kennedy claims?

The fact of the matter is that a two-thirds majority would be needed to seat Red China in the General Assembly — or at least 66 votes out of the present U. N. membership of 98. This means that, for Red China to become a member of the Assembly, 32 votes would be needed in addition to the 34 votes this year in favor of debating the question. So all of the 22 abstentions plus at least 10 of those countries now standing with the United States would have to be obtained by the Red China supporters.

This is so improbable that it gives a clue as to why 22 members abstained from voting last Friday on the United States resolution not to take up the question of admitting Red China. They knew the resolution would win anyway, and they could gain a little neutrality mileage for themselves by "abstaining." Many a so-called "neutral" finds it desirable now and then not to offend the Communist bloc, especially when on the opposite side no offense is felt by the United States against the member countries that abstain from voting.

But when is Senator Kennedy going to come to grips with the real problem that will confront the United States? The question of whether the Assembly should or should not debate the admission of Red China is a relatively minor one. After there is a vote to begin debate, another vote has to be taken and a two-thirds majority recorded before Red China is admitted to the General Assembly.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WORLD'S POPULATION — The excessively high world birth rate has brought some sharp warning comments from one of the nation's "most respected research organizations in the field.

The Population Reference Service warns in its annual report that the rate must be cut by one-third to one-half in the next 20 years or the world's population will outrun the world's resources as we know them.

There are nearly three billion people in the world today. The high birth rate together with the low death rate is expected to add some 500 million more in the next 10 years. By the year 2000, the world's population could well be doubled—to the astronomical total of six billion people.

The report notes that the greatest increase is occurring in that part of the world—the so-called underdeveloped areas—where per capita food production is lowest; where production gains are most difficult to achieve, and where malnutrition and illiteracy retard progress and depress living levels.

Even the United States is reaping the adverse effects of its own population explosion since the end of World War II, the PRS declares. The rapid growth in population here, the report says, has contributed to a deteriorating educational system, overcrowded suburban areas, decayed central cities, and caused an increase in taxes to provide necessary facilities.

The answer lies in educating the world to its plight. If moderate steps are not taken now, drastic ones may be necessary in the future.

ABC Censored Powell Statement
Backing Kennedy And Johnson

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The so-called Senate watchdog committee for the TV networks which hasn't done much watching lately should take a look at the way the American Broadcasting Company carried the statement of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell that he was coming out for Kennedy and Johnson.

The Negro Congressman from Harlem announced with considerable whoopla from the White House steps in 1956 that he was for Ike and Nixon. So the fact that he was officially for Kennedy and Johnson this time was national news. Especially newsworthy was the manner in which Powell phrased his announcement, because the Congressman is the pastor of the largest Baptist Church in the world, the Abyssinian Baptist Church of Harlem, and the southern Baptists have been among the leaders in attacking Kennedy's religion.

When Congressman Powell held a televised press conference therefore, and announced that the "bigots of the South have turned in their white robes for ministerial garb," it was picked up by the ABC news staff in Washington as headline news and carried via the network on the regular 6 p. m. TV newscast.

Following this a taped recording of Congressman Powell's news statement was carried by ABC at its regular newscasts at 6:15 and 6:30, just as his 1956 statement for Ike and Nixon had also been carried.

John Daly is vice president in charge of news for ABC and a great rooter for Vice President Nixon. He had a news show at 6:30 p. m. sponsored by Cadillac, and since the tape on Congressman Powell was fed to him automatically from Washington, it was used on his 6:30 show. He had not had time to review it first.

However, after 6:30 it was a different matter. Daly promptly expressed disapproval of Congressman Powell's remarks in support of Kennedy-Johnson and sent word to the ABC news staff in Washington to break up the tape hitherto fed the network from Washington and to censor the Powell statement.

Mr. Daly is vice president of the network. His word on news is law. So Congressman Powell's remarks were promptly eliminated from the ABC network. Possibly more important, the effect on the news staff is to do a little voluntary censoring. Knowing now that vice president Daly doesn't like news detrimental to his friend Vice President Nixon, the news staff tends to save itself trouble by not feeding him this kind of news in the future.

Note—Executives of the ABC network were financial contributors to the Eisenhower-Nixon campaign in 1956.

Hate List

Two men are now at the top of President Eisenhower's hate list, whereas there used to be but one. The old member, as everyone knows, is Harry Truman. The President has hated Truman with a passion, ever since Truman pointed to Eisenhower in a speech in San Francisco in 1952 as commander-in-chief in Europe who had been responsible for letting Berlin get encircled by Communist territory.

Truman and Eisenhower once had been old friends, but after that speech Ike refused to get out of the car in front of the White House on inauguration Day, to go inside and greet Truman, then retiring as President. Ike long refused to invite Truman to the White House and even refused to see the ex-President in Kansas City, when Truman called up and wanted to pay a courtesy call.

But now, those conferring with the President find that Truman has a rival—Nikita Khrushchev.

The two men left the Camp David talks a year ago apparently quite good friends. There was even a glow of warmth in the President's voice when he talked to advisers about Mr. K. after Camp David. But since Khrushchev disinvited Ike to go to Russia and since the humiliation at Paris it has been a different story. Ike has been unalterably, irrevocably down on his old friend of Camp David.

He will simply have nothing to do with "that guy," as he calls Khrushchev.

Advice Ignored

When Prime Minister Macmillan flew from London to try to get the UN Assembly back on the track for peace, he conferred especially with Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Nkrumah of Ghana who had proposed that Eisenhower and Khrushchev meet. He found them deadly serious in their belief that the only thing that could ease world tensions was a face-to-face talk between the two leaders of the world's chief rivals. He also found them and other leading neutrals fearful that Red China would attack the island of Formosa all-out right after the U. S. elections, and that this might touch off World War III.

However, Macmillan did not carry out the neutrals' advice. He did not even suggest to Eisenhower that he sit down and talk with Khrushchev. Macmillan and Prime Minister Menzies of Australia had been tipped off in advance that the President was too irritable on this subject, that they would only rub him the wrong way.

Macmillan did emphasize to Eisenhower his belief that the neutrals were becoming more and more important, that they now held the balance of power in the UN, but he carefully avoided telling Ike: "You should sit down with Khrushchev."

Worked For "Little Man"

Some Congressmen bow out of the halls of legislative turbulence, unmissed, unmourned, not even mentioned. But as Gordon Canfield, long-time Republican Congressman from New Jersey, retired from the House of Representatives this year there was genuine regret on the part of both Republicans and Democrats.

Congressman Canfield is best known as father of the Coast Guard Reserve and author of the amendment that enables narcotics Commissioner Harry Anslinger to send special agents abroad to break up mafia narcotics shipments to the United States.

Less publicized, but possibly more important, Canfield spent his years in Congress working for the little man. Once a Democrat who ran against him in northern New Jersey hurled the derisive accusation, "All Canfield thinks about is the little man."

So when it became known that Congressman Canfield, weary of the sometimes futile bickering in the "monkey house" on Capitol Hill, was going to retire, thousands of men, both big and little, turned out in Paterson, N. J., to express belated appreciation. (Copyright, 1960, by The Bell Syndicate)

Cost Of Education

By Leslie Gould

An important item in the family budget—even though it is left out of the cost of living indices—has had an astronomical rise since prewar days. This is:

Higher education. Without figuring in the "fringe costs," college tuitions, fees and board have nearly trebled and for some colleges quadrupled.

These run on the average from $2,500 to $3,000 a year. The fringe expenses will add anywhere from $500 to $1,000 a year—depending on the child, whether a he or she, their associates and the school.

The "fringe costs" include books, clothing, laundry, transportation, possibly a car and spending money, fraternity and sorority dues.

The Stock Exchange firm of Kaib, Voorhis & Co. annually surveys college costs. This year the firm reports a 6 per cent increase over last year, 65 per cent in the last 10 years and 147 per cent since 1940. It adds:

Further increases are indicated.

While the increases this year average 6 per cent, 12 of the 115 institutions surveyed have jacked up tuitions and fees more than 20 per cent and 27 have made boosts of 10 to 20 per cent.

A majority report no changes in room and board costs, but 30 have jacked these up 5 to 17 per cent.

Just to pick a couple of colleges at random from the Kaib, Voorhis list:

Little Amherst, which charged $440 tuition and fees prewar, now collects $1,160, and big Cornell has boosted these from $460 prewar to $1,425 this year. Columbia has followed Cornell, jumping tuition and fees from $400 to $1,460.

Room and board at Amherst has gone from $465 to $725, at Cornell from $525 to $990 and at Columbia from $457 to $865.

Average college costs—tuitions, fees and room and board—have stepped up from $722 a year prewar to $1,077 in the 1949-50 year, to $1,682 last year and to $1,778 this year.

The only break a parent can get on the cost of his son's or daughter's higher education is to send them to a state school. The fees of state universities are lower for resident children than for out-of-state students. Also, the state university fees are lower than for the private colleges, like the Ivy League members.

If the student can win a scholarship that will help reduce the overhead. A side job as well as a Summer one also will reduce the strain on the parent's pocket-book.

Whether the cost of education is too high, or not high enough is debatable. If the costs continue to spiral; two things will have to be done:

1.—Uncle Sam will have to grant a larger tax deduction for a dependent student. This is now a ridiculous $600 a year—which is about a fifth or a sixth of the actual annual cost of a higher education.

2.—Reduce the number of basic college years from the present four to three years. This would eliminate a lot of the froth, but leave the essentials for helping the student become a better and, most important, productive citizen.

The college year also could be lengthened. It now averages about seven months — which means the expensive plant is unused or only partly used five months of the year.

One of the reasons so many students drop out of college before graduation is the expense—the family lacking the funds to pay for the full courses.

The camel is one of the homeliest and most bad-tempered of animals — nature item. Well, naturally, one would follow the other.

We doubt if British Field Marshal Montgomery will try to answer that former sergeant who wrote a book criticizing him as a military leader. By this time Monty probably knows you can't win an argument with a top kick.

A pigeon launched in a race from Dulken, West Germany, has just returned to its home nest. Maybe the bird-brained critter thought it was entered in one of the 1960 Olympic events!

Still another expedition starts up the Himalaya mountains in search of the Abominable Snowman. For a guy who is never around, Old Bommy certainly gets a lot of publicity!

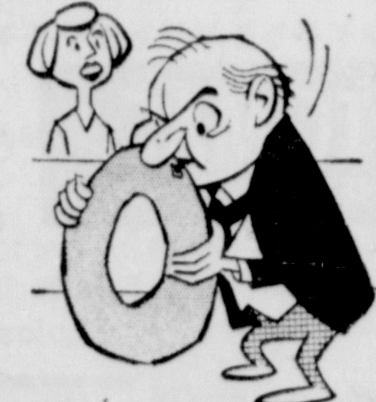

Try And Stop Me

A highlight in the long run of TV's "I've Got a Secret" came when a very fat contestant appeared with a claim that he could blow up an inner tube of an automobile tire, using only lung power, until it exploded. He proved his point, too. The explosion knocked Panelist Audrey Meadows off her chair, and sent the successful contestant flying straight out of camera range.

Another aspirant showed the panel about seven miles of string, all knotted together. "Is collecting string your great secret?" scoffed Panelist Henry Morgan. "Oh, no," chuckled the string-fancier. "That's just the work I do. My secret is, I collect lead pencils."

A Japanese applied to Victor Borge for the job of secretary-valet "I speak nine languages," he announced, "and I charge $18 a day."

"I'll only need three languages," countered Borge, "so I'll pay you $6." At last reports, negotiations still were in progress.

be detected? These are the men and women who have slightly higher readings than normal for their age. In some, the elevation is detected during an insurance, army, or industrial examination. The reading goes down after a few minutes of rest and is blamed on nervousness. Actually, everyone is nervous at such times but it is the hyper-reactor whose blood pressure rises.

These individuals should take advantage of this knowledge and try to avoid irritants such as tobacco and stimulants such as coffee and tea. They should be moderate in their use of salt and animal fats, and lose weight if they are too heavy. Periodic examinations would be wise.

The majority of the hypertension remedies tend to quiet or slow down the patient. Stronger products act directly on the nervous system by divorcing the brain from the forces that raise the blood pressure.

Ismein is one of the latest and is said to reduce high blood pressure to near normal levels in 30 to 90 per cent. This potent drug must be obtained through prescription and used according to directions.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on hypertension if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

RAPID WEIGHT GAIN

Mrs. L. W. writes: I'm a victim of obesity and find it hard to believe that food has sent my weight up from 130 to 190 in 6 months. Aren't there ailments that make a person gain so much so quickly.

REPLY

Yes. Obesity usually is due to overeating but occasionally stems from certain endocrine disorders. The fat pattern differs from that of ordinary overweight. When the pituitary gland is overactive; for example, fat deposits occur on the face, shoulders, and trunk, hair grows on the face, and fatigue and weakness are noted. Gain in weight is only one part of the picture.

AVOID OVEREXPOSURE

M. C. T. writes: Some people say the sun is good for the skin. Others say it causes cancer. This leaves me confused. Please explain.

REPLY

A reasonable amount of sun is good but years of overexposure may lead to cancer. The light skinned blond or redhead is particularly susceptible.

POUNDING HEART

I. S. writes: Is palpitation caused by heart trouble?

REPLY

Palpitation is a forceful beating of the heart that may develop in an abnormal as well as in a normal heart. It is not always a sign that the old ticker is on its last legs. Nervousness and indigestion are common causes.

INCOMPATIBLE BLOOD

Mrs. G. writes: Can cerebral palsy in an infant result from the Rh factor?

REPLY

Yes. About 10 per cent of all cases of cerebral palsy are due to incompatible blood of mother and child. In such instances, the mother usually is Rh negative and the father and baby Rh positive.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when space permits. Inquiries are enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is the hardest one I have ever had to write. I can't go to anyone I know with this problem. They would think I was crazy. I can't sign my name but if you can give me some advice I will never forget you.

I am 19 years old and just got out of the service—three months ago. I started to go with a girl who works in a hamburger place. She is 18, very pretty, and has a lot of pep and personality.

I have taken this girl out about eight times in the last three months. I give you my solemn word that I never got intimate with her. I kissed her several times, but nothing more and God is my judge.

She told me last night that she is pregnant and we have to get married. I told her it is impossible, but she claims kissing can cause pregnancy on very rare occasions. She insists her doctor said it was a one in a million medical miracle.

Please answer in the paper immediately. Have you ever heard of this medical miracle? I need help fast. — ANONYMOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: If you buy this story, YOU are a medical miracle — NO HEAD.

Ask the girl to give you the name of her doctor. She will not be able to give you a name because no doctor would tell such a wild story.

DEAR ANN: A very intelligent friend of mine spends a lot of time and care selecting clothes. She always looks nice and I'm sure she knows it.

Whenever someone gives her a compliment she makes some disparaging remark such as, "Oh this dress is an old rag. I wore it because it's comfortable." Last night I complimented her on a hat which was becoming and she countered with, "It's five years old. I wore it because my hair looks so awful."

I know a few others who pull this stuff. What's the matter with them anyway? — INQUIRER

DEAR INQUIRER: Some people can handle an insult better than a compliment. It's because they are insecure and unable to accept with poise kind words about themselves.

They appreciate compliments but are emotionally unequipped to handle them graciously.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The woman who signed herself "Workhorse Wife" reminded me of my own experience last fall. I've been burning about this ever since. Now I'll get it out of my system by writing to you like she did.

My husband and I were walking home from church. The lady who lives next door shouted "Yoo-hoo, Clyde, can you come here a minute?"

Well, I went on home and fixed dinner. About an hour later I looked around and there was no sign of Clyde. I went into the yard and there he was on a step ladder—putting on the neighbor's storm windows in his Sunday clothes and his Sunday hat. What do you say to that? — ANOTHER SLAVE

DEAR SLAVE: I say it's too bad you didn't have a camera handy. The shot would have been good for a laugh for years to come.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOLLYWOOD—With $12 million invested in "Spartacus," some of it out of his own toga, I'm not surprised that Kirk Douglas is teaming up his Brynads Co. with the Mirisch Brothers and will star in "Town Without Pity," a far less costly venture.

"Town Without Pity" is the explosive story of four G.I.s in Germany accused of rape. Kirk's role is completely modern, that of the defense attorney for the soldiers. Gottfried Reinhardt will produce and direct.

Kirk and Anne Douglas take off for London, Frankfurt and Brussels to attend the premiers of "Spartacus" after the Los Angeles opening on the 19th. Then on to Munich where "Town" will be shot.

Enroute home, they'll go to Tokyo, Hong Kong and Manila for "Spartacus."

Tuesday Weld, Jerry Wald says, is one reason they go "Wild in the Country." She has the juvenile lead in this next Elvis Presley movie for which Clifford Odets has written the screenplay. The shooteacher, also an important role, has not yet been chosen but Philip Dunne, the director, has been testing any number of actresses. The picture starts Nov. 7.

There is no studio anywhere that is turning out as many movies as 20th. Bob Goldstein makes up his mind in a hurry. That's important these days.

Not only does David Janssen play gambler Arnold Rothstein in "The Big Bankroll," he's got a gamble on his hands to hold his own against that fine old scene stealer, Joseph Schildkraut, just cast to play his father.

Schildkraut hasn't made a picture since "The Diary of Anne Frank" which he came perilously close to stealing.

But before David reports to Sam Bischoff and David Diamond for Leo Katcher's story about the king of the New York gamblers at Allied Artists, he takes off for Hong Kong. He's due there to shoot several chapters of his "Macao" TV series before "Big Bankroll" rolls.

I was about to write that the whole "Misfits" company was held up in Reno because of the dust and sand storms which made it impossible to photograph scenes. Then I talked to Mrs. Clark Gable and she said it had been snowing! Kay who has lived most of her life in California was a like a kid about the snow.

She also told me that she has been to Los Angeles for a couple of days to make arrangements to build a larger nursery. She says she never felt better in her life and her doctors tell her the danger period is over and she'll have the baby.

But before David reports to Sam Bischoff and David Diamond for Leo Katcher's story about the king of the New York gamblers at Allied Artists, he takes off for Hong Kong.

He's due there to shoot several chapters of his "Macao" TV series before "Big Bankroll" rolls.

I was about to write that the whole "Misfits" company was held up in Reno because of the dust and sand storms which made it impossible to photograph scenes.

Then I talked to Mrs. Clark Gable and she said it had been snowing!

Kay who has lived most of her life in California was a like a kid about the snow.

She also told me that she has been to Los Angeles for a couple of days to make arrangements to build a larger nursery.

She says she never felt better in her life and her doctors tell her the danger period is over and she'll have the baby.

"Spartacus" after the Los Angeles opening on the 19th. Then on to Munich where "Town" will be shot.

Enroute home, they'll go to Tokyo, Hong Kong and Manila for "Spartacus."

Tuesday Weld, Jerry Wald says, is one reason they go "Wild in the Country." She has the juvenile lead in this next Elvis Presley movie for which Clifford Odets has written the screenplay.

The shooteacher, also an important role, has not yet been chosen but Philip Dunne, the director, has been testing any number of actresses.

The picture starts Nov. 7.

There is no studio anywhere that is turning out as many movies as 20th.

Bob Goldstein makes up his mind in a hurry.

That's important these days.

Not only does David Janssen play gambler Arnold Rothstein in "The Big Bankroll," he's got a gamble on his hands to hold his own against that fine old scene stealer, Joseph Schildkraut, just cast to play his father.

Schildkraut hasn't made a picture since "The Diary of Anne Frank" which he came perilously close to stealing.

Yanks Belt Friend, Square Series With Pirates, 12-0

Ford Hurls 2d Shutout Over Bucs

Richardson Sets RBI Mark Of 12 With Two Triples

By JACK HAND

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chunky Whitey Ford squared the World Series with his second straight shutout of Pittsburgh Wednesday, 12-0, while Bobby Richardson and his New York Yankee mates scrambled the record book during a 17-hit romp in the sixth game.

The left-handed ace of Manager Casey Stengel's staff joined ex-Yankees Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds as the winners of the most Series games, seven, as he sent this Series into a seventh game Thursday.

Ford, working Wednesday with three days rest, blanked the National League champions, 10-0, in the third game Saturday.

Richardson became the runs batted in champion of all Series history. The YMCA secretary from Sumter, S.C., boosted his total to 12 RBI, by knocking in three with a pair of triples.

Crowd Is Stunned

The stunned crowd of 38,590 fans, many of whom had watched the Pirates absorb a 16-3 pasting in their last appearance here last Thursday, wondered if they should believe what they read about the Bucs' success in the big city last weekend where they won two of three.

When the computing staff finished, they found the Yanks already had scored more runs, 46, and collected more hits, 78, than any other Series team. And they still have one more game to go Thursday at Forbes Field, where they will face Vern Law, the Pirates' 20-game winner. Law already has beaten them twice with help from little Elroy Face.

Stengel said he would start either Bill Stafford, 22-year-old rookie who pitched five scoreless innings in relief Monday, or Bob Turley, big right-hander who won that 16-3 second game last week.

This was the most lopsided shutout in the long history of Series competition, topping the 11-0 romp by the Chicago White Sox over Los Angeles in the first game last October and the St. Louis Cardinals against Detroit in the last game in 1934.

Once again it happened quickly with one big inning—five runs in the third — when the aroused Yanks knocked out Bob Friend, Manager Danny Murtaugh kept Law and Face out of this heavy shelling, waiting for Thursday's payoff game, while he followed loser Friend with Tom Cheney.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, Fred Green, Clem Labine and George Witt.

For the first time in this Series, the Yanks failed to hit a home run. Included in their 17 hits were three triples, two by Richardson, and four doubles, two by reserve catcher Johnny Blanchard. Roger Maris contributed two singles and a double and Yogi Berra three singles. Blanchard also got a single.

Pittsburgh was out of this game as early as the third. The Yanks had pushed over a run on Ford's scratch single off Friend's glove with the bases loaded in the second.

Friend hit Tony Kubek on the foot opening the third and Maris started Friend toward his second defeat when he doubled off the right field screen, a smash that would have been a home run in Yankee Stadium. Mickey Mantle ripped a single into center scoring both Kubek and Maris.

Cheney, a young right-hander, took over the burden of trying to stop the sizzling Yankee bats. Bill Skowron's sacrifice fly knocked in Mantle. After Blanchard singled to center, Richardson broke the RBI record with his two-run triple off the distant scoreboard in left field.

With a 6-0 lead Ford was just breezing along the rest of the way.

Local Cyclists Fail To Win In Canadian National

Bob Judy and Joe Hemmis, two Cumberland motorcyclists who participated in the Canadian National Hill Climb event at Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, on Monday, failed to capture a first place prize, but both finished among the top three in their classes.

Judy was second to Harold Warner, Easton, Pa., who captured the Class B event for 45 cubic inch cycles in 04:23 seconds. Hemmis finished third in the Class A event for 74 cubic inch motorcycles. Willard Bryan of Columbus, Ohio, won this event to take the Canadian title.

Okey Downey was the Class C victor.

The results:

Moorman Leads ACC Receivers

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Duke and Tee Moorman, who smashed the Atlantic Coast Conference single-game pass-receiving record with 11 catches against South Carolina three weeks ago, is far ahead in the ACC pass-catching race for 1960.

In three games, Moorman has caught 18 passes, twice as many as his closest challenger in the ACC. Averaging six receptions a game, Moorman is well within range of the season record of 47 set in 1958 by Sonny Randle of Virginia.

According to ACC Service Bureau figures, Dwayne Fletcher of Maryland, Joe Kehoe of Virginia and Bill Hull of Wake Forest are deadlocked for second place, each with nine catches. Johnny Morris of N. C. State and Bruce McDonnell of Wake Forest trail with eight each.

Morris' receptions have been good for the best per-catch average, 12.8 yards, while Hull's catches have averaged 10.2 yards. Moorman's 9.9. Moorman has caught one TD throw, same as Morris and Kehoe. Nobody has caught more than one scoring pass.

In extra-point kicking, Lon Armstrong of Clemson has yet to miss in eight chances. Wayne Ballard of Virginia has kicked five for five. Bill Reynolds of Duke has made six of seven. Vince Scott of Maryland four of five.

Cross Country Meet Set Today

A four-school cross country race meet will be held today on the Maplehurst Country Club grounds, Robert E. Pence, director of athletics for the Allegheny County Board of Education, said last night.

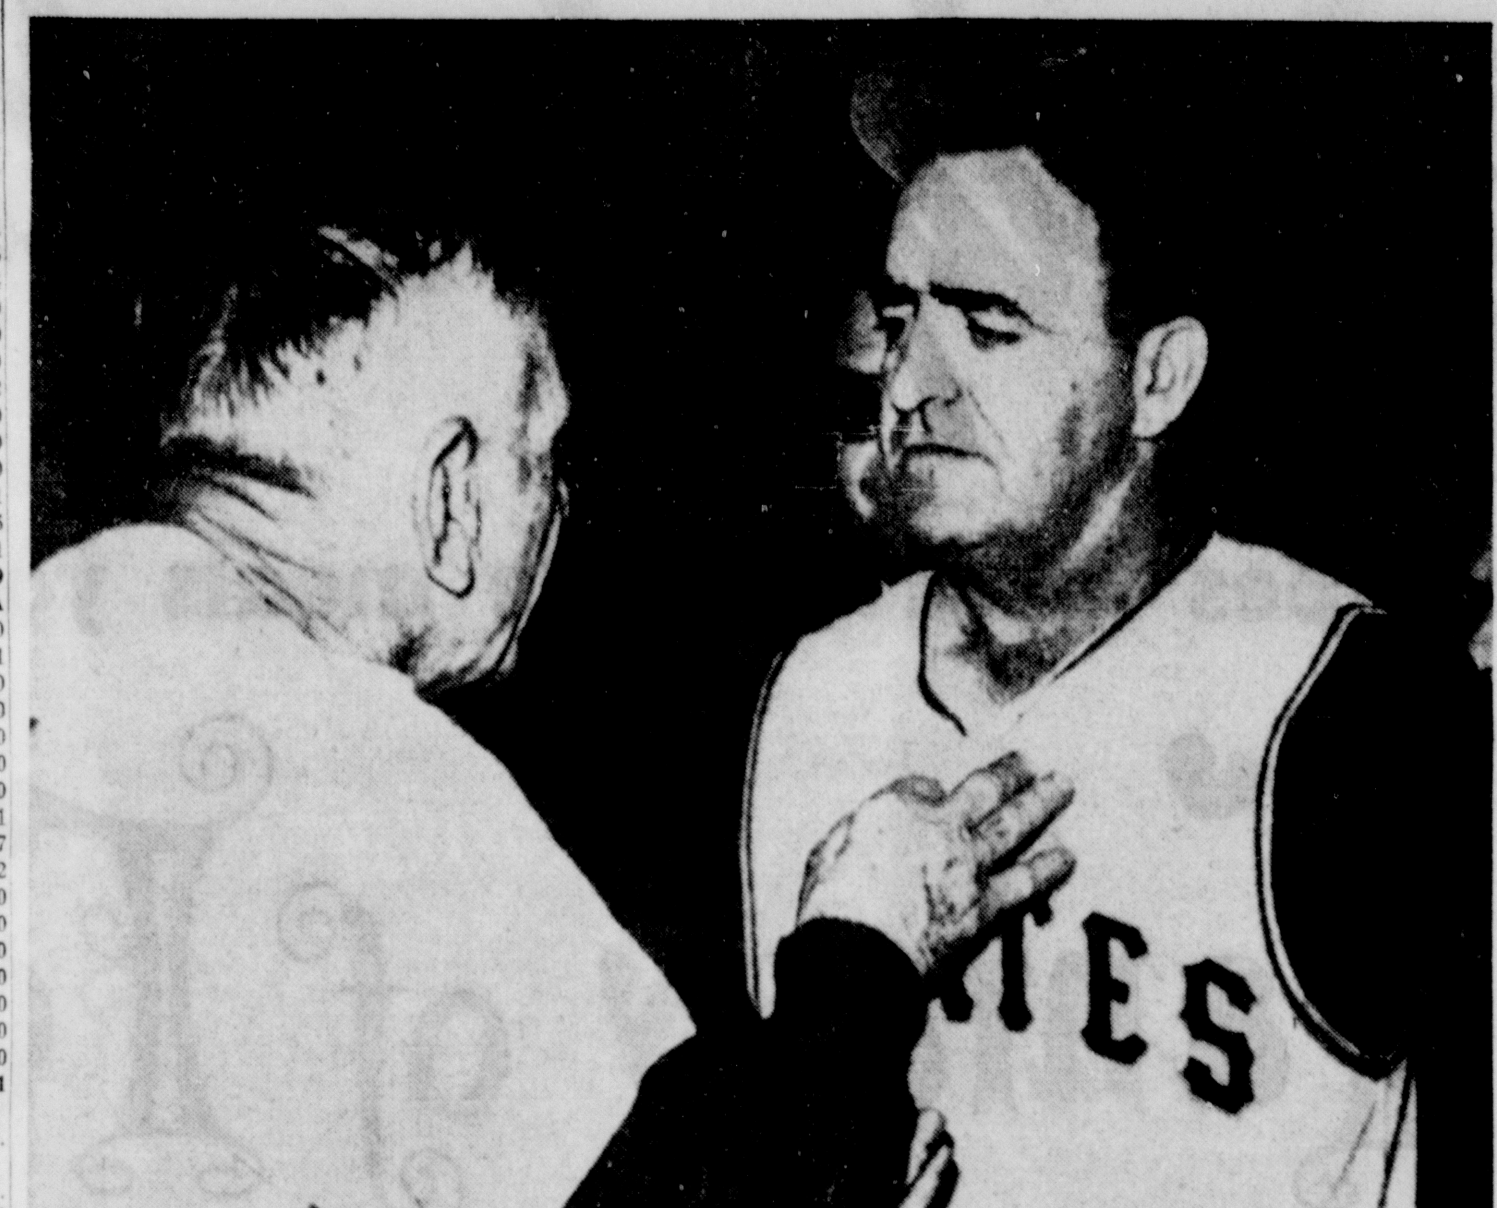

The meet originally was slated to be held in two parts, but Wadsworth High School is unable to take part. Pence said and the four remaining schools will combine into one meet.

Taking part will be Fort Hill and Allegheny of Cumberland, Beall High of Frostburg and Elk Garden High. This will be the first year Elk Garden has participated in cross country meets, Pence stated.

The meet will get underway at 1 p. m.

Swank Replaces Iba At Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—University of Tulsa Wednesday named Joe Swank, Hurricane freshman basketball coach for the past 11 years, as acting varsity coach. He replaces Clarence Iba, who resigned Tuesday.

TODAY WILL TELL THE TALE—An unsmiling Danny Murtaugh, Pittsburgh Pirates' manager, listens as New York Yankees' manager Casey Stengel taps him on the chest and tells him that "tomorrow will be it" after the Yankees clobbered the Pirates, 12-0, yesterday to tie up the World Series at three games each. Stengel told Murtaugh that he was a "very nice gentleman whether you win, lose or draw," to which Murtaugh murmured a quiet, "thank you." (AP Photofax)

Steelers Top Offense Team

Pittsburgh Gains 1,192 Yards

By The Associated Press

Although they're tied for last place in the Eastern Conference, the Pittsburgh Steelers are the top yard-gaining team in the National Football League.

With veteran quarterback Bobby Layne leading the way, the Steelers have rolled up 1,193 yards in three games on 792 yards passing and 401 yards rushing, according to official statistics released Wednesday.

The Steelers also are tops in the passing percentage with 55.4. The figures, however, are misleading at the moment since Cleveland, Detroit and Washington have only played two games.

Here are the team leaders in various departments: Total offense—Pittsburgh 1,193; Baltimore 1,123; Chicago Bears 654 and Philadelphia 638.

Rushing — Green Bay 567, St. Louis 475, Cleveland 461, Chicago 460 and Baltimore 409.

Passing — Pittsburgh 792, Dallas 783, Baltimore 719, New York 654 and Philadelphia 638.

Rushing — Green Bay 567, St. Louis 475, Cleveland 461, Chicago 460 and Baltimore 409.

Syracuse Tops On Defense In College Ranks

Dartmouth Allows The Least Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Syracuse's defending college football champions may not be overwhelming their opponents offensively, but they've certainly been superb on defense.

Just as they did last season, the Orangemen so far this year have been holding opponents to an average of less than 100 yards per game, according to statistics released Wednesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Syracuse is tops among major colleges in total defense and rushing defense; Auburn is the passing defense leader; San Jose State leads in punting, and Dartmouth has been scored upon the least.

In its first three games, Syracuse has yielded opponents an average of 95 yards per game, compared to second-place Mississippi's yield of 137.3 yards a game. In rushing, the Orangemen have given up a total of 147 yards in 100 opponents' carries for an average of 49 yards. Mississippi is also second in this department with a 49.3-yard average.

On a per-play basis, the Syracuse defense has been denied for an average of 1.98 yards, compared to 2.09 for the first three games of the 1959 season.

Since Ohio State gave up a touchdown to Illinois last Saturday, there are no major unscorced teams. Dartmouth's defense has been cracked for only six points in three games, Florida State has yielded nine points in four games, Ohio State seven in three and Tennessee 10 in three.

Bob Richardson Says Slugging Is "Just Luck"

Sets New Series Record For RBIs

By TED SMITS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bobby Richardson, the slugging little second baseman of the New York Yankees, thinks all his World Series acclaim is the result of "just luck."

"Naturally I didn't go into the Series thinking about runs batted in records, not when I had only had 26 all season," he grinned, "and I haven't been taking per pills."

Richardson has now set an all time World Series record of 12 runs batted in, eclipsing the former record of 10 set by Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees in seven games in 1956 and tied by Ted Kluszewski of the Chicago White Sox last year in the six-game series with Los Angeles.

Richardson shared the center of attraction in the Yankee dressing room with Whitey Ford, the clutch pitcher of the Yankees, whose second shutout over the Pirates, 12-0, brought New York all even again.

"You did a real good job," shouted Manager Casey Stengel. "I wasn't as strong as I was in the other game (a 10-0, four-hit shutout in the third game) and I felt I was weakening in the fifth but that doubleplay gave me a lift."

Ford said he threw a lot of sliders and not so much stuff Wednesday.

"As I get more experienced in baseball I have been using two new pitches that have helped a lot—a sinker and a straight change-up," he said.

Trojan End Top Lineman

Marlin McKeever Gets AP Award

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer Southern California ended a 5-game football losing streak last week. For his part, Marlin McKeever, Trojan end, was named Wednesday as the lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

Behind 10-3, the favored Georgia Bulldogs drove to the Southern Cal 12 in the closing minutes and it seemed they might turn defeat into victory.

But the 230-pound McKeever took over at this point. On third down he threw Georgia halfback Fred Brown for a 4-yard loss. On the next play he smeared Francis Tarkenton, back to pass, for a 19-yard loss and the Trojans took over on downs to stifle Georgia's last threat.

In addition, McKeever had a respectable average of 58 yards on four punts.

High up in the weekly poll by sportswriters and Broadcasters was another end—Gary Collins of Maryland. He was hailed as the best defensive and offensive lineman on the field against North Carolina State and was named the lineman of the week in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Collins got off a 45-yard punt six inches from the goal line, then broke through and blocked a kick for a touchdown that put Maryland ahead 10-7. Maryland lost, 13-10, however.

Yankees Become Series Favorites

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The New York Yankees became favorites Wednesday night at 6½ to 5 in man-to-man betting to win Thursday's final game and the World Series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Sports Patrol

NEW YORK (UPI)—All the nation's top 10 teams figure to hang on for another week but it may be tough and go for Syracuse (No. 4) and Minnesota (No. 8).

Sputtering Syracuse runs into upgraded Penn State and the national champs will have to play up to their 1959 form to keep their winning streak alive. Improving Minnesota is favored by 6½ over Illinois but will be happy to settle for one against the Illini who'll be hot for a comeback after being blasted by Ohio State last week.

The week's forecast, however, is headed by the top 10 as most likely to succeed: Mississippi, Ohio State, Iowa, Syracuse, Navy, Missouri, Baylor, Minnesota, Texas and Kansas.

Around the nation:

The East
Syracuse over Penn State—Should have the beef for the job. Navy over Air Force—Midgies and Joe Belino looking sharp. Holy Cross over Dartmouth—Caution advised; letdown may hit Crusaders.

Also: Pennsylvania over Brown, Princeton over Colgate, Harvard over Columbia, Yale over Cornell, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Detroit over Boston College, Boston U. over George Washington, Rutgers over Bucknell, Lafayette over Temple, New Hampshire over Delaware, Miami (Ohio) over Villanova, Connecticut over Maine, Massachusetts over Rhode Island.

The Midwest
Iowa over Wisconsin—Iowa speed over Ron Miller's passing. Minnesota over Illinois—Illini lack the punch expected. Ohio State over Purdue—Buckeyes are doing their "grinding" bit again.

Army over Nebraska—Toss-up. Kansas over Oklahoma—Adding to Wilkinson's woes.

Also: Michigan over Northwestern, Michigan State over Notre Dame, Missouri over Kansas State, Indiana over Marquette, Iowa State over Colorado, Cincinnati over Wichita, Ohio U. over Xavier.

The South
Mississippi over Tulane—Rebels slay at No. 1. Alabama over Tennessee—Tough game, mild upset in sight. Georgia Tech over Auburn—Auburn has been short on touchdowns.

'Disappointing' Friend Says Of Second Defeat

Yanks Just Hitting Murtaugh Claims

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"This has to be the biggest disappointment of my life—I just can't figure what has happened to me."

That was pitcher Bob Friend talking in the Pittsburgh dressing room Wednesday as the Pirates quietly discussed the 12-0 shellacking from the New York Yankees that squared the World Series at three games apiece.

Friend, who retired the first three Yankee batters easily, was knocked from the box in the 5-run Yankee third inning. He had given up a run in the second inning but said he felt fine when the third inning started.

Friend said he was sorry that he had hit two Yankee batters with his pitches, "especially for Elston Howard."

Howard was lost for the Series when a pitch hit his right hand in the second inning, breaking a bone.

Manager Danny Murtaugh wasn't smiling. The Pirate manager walked into his dressing room to meet newsmen just as Yankee Manager Casey Stengel was leaving. Stengel grabbed Murtaugh's hand and said:

"Well, tomorrow will be it and you are a very nice gentleman whether you win, lose or draw."

Murtaugh muttered a quiet "thank you."

Murtaugh said Friend "had good stuff all the time but they were hitting him. Our club wasn't tight—the Yankees were hitting, that's all," he said.

Jockey Strike Flatly Denied

Riders Seeking Increased Fees

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)—Reports that jockeys plan to strike at Golden Gate Fields in Albany, Calif., were flatly denied Wednesday by Bert Thompson, national director of the Jockeys Guild of America.

But, there is little doubt that the jockeys are going all out in a drive for increased fees. Jockeys' winnings have increased little in the past 15 years.

Thompson met with 30 jockeys currently riding at Tanforan Monday night to discuss a possible solution.

The jockeys reportedly are seeking increased medical benefits and more important, a flat guarantee that the winner of all races irrespective of the size of the purse receive 10 per cent of the net.

The 10 per cent rule is now mandatory in all handicaps and is extended to perhaps 60 per cent of the races other than stakes.

At the jockey's meeting at Tanforan, it was agreed to let Thompson represent the jockeys in talks with management and with members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association.

GOP Chairman Denies Politics In Payments
 Says DPA Recipient Owed Store Bill
 ALDERSON, W. Va. (UPI) — Arnold Harris, Summers County Republican chairman, Wednesday denied "politics" played a part in payments made to him by a man from his West Virginia relief check.
 Democratic gubernatorial candidate W. W. Barron charged Tuesday night that the DPA was forcing Charles R. Cooper of Clayton to make a $20 payment to Harris from his Department of Public Assistance check each month under threat of removing him from the welfare lists. Summers is the home county of Harold E. Neely, Republican nominee for governor.
 In making his charge Tuesday Barron said since it occurred in Neely's home county the GOP gubernatorial candidate probably had some knowledge of the alleged incident and added "If Punchy shows such cruel disregard for his own neighbors... you know with what contempt he holds the other fine citizens of West Virginia."
 At Pineville Wednesday night Neely denied he had any knowledge of the matter mentioned by Barron. "I have never had any connection with the Department of Public Assistance during the period I served in state government or since."
 "I haven't the faintest idea about the matter my opponent has raised, but one thing I do know for certain— I have no connection with it what-so-ever."
 Barron acknowledged that "apparently Mr. Cooper owed Mr. Harris some money, but the DPA was never intended to be a collection agency for Republican politicians."
 Harris said the entire matter was a "business matter" between Cooper and himself. "I have never contacted the DPA office in Summers County, nor the DPA in Charleston," he said.
 He said Cooper agreed several months ago to make monthly payments of $20 on a debt of $373. "W. W. Barron's inference that Cooper's payment on a store account represented political kick-back is false in every respect," Harris said.
 Republican State Chairman Daniel Louchery Wednesday branded Barron's charge as a "vicious misrepresentation" of facts.
 "It represents a desperate attempt on Barron's part to detract from the real issues in this campaign," Louchery said.

Equity Suits Filed
 Two equity suits were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Emily Ann Comer vs. Frederick Lee Comer and Robert W. Miller and Virginia M. Miller.

Former Head Of W. Va. Police Offers Program
 By BILL BARRETT
 CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Former West Virginia State Police Supt. Raymond W. Boyles made some suggestions Wednesday which he said would help improve the efficiency of the department.
 Boyles, the only man to rise up through the ranks to become superintendent of State Police, said the department should set up definite standards for promotion and give members of the force an opportunity to earn a college degree.
 Boyles, who joined the department as a trooper in 1934, said he started on a proposed method of rating the men during his last year in 1957.
 The former superintendent said a rating system would give troopers an incentive "to beef up on their weak points" to stay in line for promotions.
 Noting that a high school education is one of the requirements to become a trooper, Boyles suggested the department work out some type of program with state colleges to help troopers earn a college degree.
 "We require them to undergo 14 weeks of schooling right after they are inducted," Boyles said. "Why not arrange with the State Board of Education and the state colleges to have those courses taught at the State Police Academy and count them toward college credits?"
 "It isn't outside the realm of good thinking, I feel, to consider a salary increase of, say, $600 a year for those who obtain a college degree."
 "If something like this were set up, West Virginia would have one of the best State Police organizations in the nation within a few years."

Proposed
 in Baltimore City such vacancy shall be filled by the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City. The present constitutional language leaves doubt as to the procedure in those counties, all on the Eastern Shore, which do not have a resident judge.
 This amendment would make it clear that where there is no resident judge, the judge or judges having jurisdiction in the Circuit Court of that county would fill the vacancy.
 Amendment No. 2 is of interest solely to Baltimore County.
 It is intended to change the procedure for condemnation of property in Baltimore County by the County Council of that county. Presently, compensation for the property must be agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a jury, and either paid or tendered to the party entitled to compensation, before the property may be taken for public use.
 The proposed change, which is similar to changes made some years ago for the condemnation of property by the City of Baltimore and by the State Roads Commission, requires that the court provide for the appointment of an appraiser to value the property, after which, upon the payment of the amount of the evaluation to the party entitled to compensation, or into the court, and also securing the payment of any further sum that may be awarded by a jury, the property may be taken immediately.
 Only No. 3 among the first four proposed amendments is a matter of statewide importance. This amendment is intended to permit tax anticipation borrowing by the state.

Present Constitution authorizes the General Assembly, without levying a tax, to borrow an amount never to exceed $50,000, to meet temporary deficiencies in the state treasury.
 The proposed change would eliminate this power directly held by the General Assembly, and would substitute in its place a provision that the General Assembly may authorize the Board of Public Works to direct the state treasurer to borrow in anticipation of taxes. The sum or sums to be borrowed would be as necessary to meet temporary deficiencies in the treasury, to preserve the best interest of the state in the conduct of the various state institutions, departments, bureaus and agencies. Subject to the approval of the Board of Public Works and as authorized by law, the treasurer would be authorized to make and sell short-term notes for temporary emergencies, but such notes could only be made to provide for appropriations already made by the General Assembly.

Baltimore Court
 Amendment No. 4 would create a Municipal Court for Baltimore City to take the place of the present police courts and the Traffic Court. At the present time a number of the justices of the peace in Baltimore City, who are appointed by the Governor every two years, are designated as police magistrates. Another group of justices of the peace are appointed as magistrates of the traffic court. These two types of courts handle criminal jurisdiction in Baltimore City on the judicial level of justices of the peace.
 The proposed Municipal Court would have 11 judges to serve full-time. After an original set of staggered terms, they would have 10-year terms of office. The officers would be elective except for filling vacancies.

City Planner Discusses Need With Unit Here

Commission Hears Pittsburgh Engineer

Cumberland's reactivated Planning and Zoning Commission had a long session last night at the City Hall in which a Pittsburgh planning engineer went into considerable detail in explaining the scope and objective of the development of a city master plan.

The chief speaker was James R. Woglom, assistant director of the city planning division of Morris Knowles, Inc., Pittsburgh engineers and planners.

Mr. Woglom, speaking frankly to the commission which is now headed by Albert S. Paye, contended that Cumberland's chief problem appears to be the confinement of the central business district. Two major objectives of city planning, he said, are to improve the traffic flow in the business area and provide adequate off-street parking.

The topography of Cumberland makes the solution of some planning problems difficult. Mr. Woglom compared the work of a city planning engineer with that of a physician gives his patient. Both attempt to determine the parts that are in good working order and correct the ailments of the other parts which are not functioning the way they should.

Various Factors Studied

City planning takes into consideration land use, characteristics of population, housing with stress upon areas where urban renewal is needed, the city's economic base, traffic, recreation and schools.

Mr. Woglom showed the planning and zoning commission a copy of a land use map which his company has prepared for the nearby West Virginia city of Keyser. One of the big changes in planning for Keyser was made necessary by the recent annexation by the Mineral County town of an additional 350 acres, virtually doubling the area of that community.

The big problem in planning is to have certain areas of each community earmarked for a particular use. For instance, he discouraged residences in business areas. One area should be strictly for industry, another for business and a third for residences.

In much of his discussions, the Pennsylvanian cited the experiences of his company in helping the town of Meadville, Pa., in its planning. One program that has paid real dividends to that city of about 20,000 was urban renewal. Here substandard dwellings, which were costing the city money, were removed and the area cleared for industrial sites. With the aid of a $750,000 fund, Meadville has been able to attract three or four new industries to compensate for the loss of a Westinghouse plant.

Golden Triangle Cited

Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle is the most striking advantage of an urban renewal project. It is figured that the property now located on the Golden Triangle provides the City of Pittsburgh 10 times the tax revenue that was realized from the old property there.

James Alfred Avirett, another member of the planning and zoning commission, reminded Mr. Woglom that Allegany County is now engaged in the development of a master plan for the entire county. The County Planning and Zoning Commission has asked the seven incorporated communities to join in with their plan, which by law is restricted to the unincorporated areas of the county.

Mr. Woglom reminded the city group that the city has the responsibility for planning and zoning within the city limits.

All five members of the planning and zoning commission of the city attended last night's exploratory meeting. They include Mayor J. Edwin Keech, in whose office the meeting was held; George O. Hollar and Stanley E. Zorick. Also attending were City Attorney William R. Carscaden, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Leonard Neff, director of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company.

Md. Teachers Convene Today In Baltimore

Wage Increase Is On Agenda

BALTIMORE (AP) — The first of about 17,000 instructors and education officials began checking into Baltimore hotels Wednesday night on the eve of the annual convention of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Like most recent sessions, the 93rd meeting will feature preliminary moves toward obtaining increases in teachers' salaries, but this time the organization also will discuss a controversial plan to convert three teachers colleges into University of Maryland branches.

Milton C. Raver, executive secretary of the association, is expected to present at the opening session a report criticizing the action of the 1960 legislature on teachers salaries.

The lawmakers approved raises for teachers with at least 10 years of experience, rejecting a proposal to increase State-supported minimum salaries from a range of $3,200-$5,000 to a new scale of $3,500-$5,300 in Garrett County, where local funds are used to add $300 to the State minimums. The addition of local funds in six counties and Baltimore City has raised the actual scales to the proposed $4,000-$6,000 or more.

Taxes To Speak

Besides Raver's report, the delegates also awaited an appearance by Gov. Tawes, who will address the convention Thursday afternoon. The governor, in control of the Democratic majority in the legislature, supported the increases for veteran teachers, as proposed by a committee under Sen. William S. James of Harford County, instead of the teacher-backed plan to raise the state minimums.

While Tawes will speak to a general session in the Fifth Regiment Armory, action on legislative recommendations will be taken only by the 500-member representative assembly of the association.

This group will meet in the Lord Baltimore Hotel on Thursday and Saturday.

Besides re-emphasizing its support of the higher State-supported pay scales, it is expected to express opposition to the teacher college consolidation plan.

Warfield Program

Proposed by a governor's commission under Edwin Warfield III, Harford County publisher and farmer, the plan calls for the state university to absorb teacher colleges at Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson in a move to ease housing and dining facility shortages at the university's College Park campus.

The governor has endorsed the plan in principle and is expected to announce shortly his views on methods of putting it into effect, despite opposition by the State Board of Education.

Besides the general sessions and meetings of the assembly, the teachers also will attend more than 60 other departmental meetings throughout the city.

Among the speakers scheduled to address the teachers are Rear Adm. William Raborn Jr., chief of the Navy's Polaris missile program, and authors Nila Magidoff, Emily Kimbrough and Neil H. Swanson. Raborn is substituting for Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., who was not able to appear.

Proposed Amendment Would Curb Borrowing

(Editor's Note: This is the first of four articles explaining the 15 constitutional amendments and one referendum upon which Maryland voters will ballot on November 8. Readers may want to preserve these articles for reference before going to the polls.)

By ALBERT D. DABBY
News Staff Writer

Very few, if any, of the 40,663 registered voters of Allegany County are aware of the fact that they will have an opportunity on November 8 to assist in the election of the 35th President of the United States, the Vice President and a Congressman from the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland.

Reformation Service Set

The Cumberland Ministerial Association will hold a special Reformation Service Sunday, October 30, at First Christian Church on Bedford Street.

The service will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will be conducted by ministers and members of all local churches. Special music will be provided by choirs from the various churches.

Guest speaker for the service will be Rev. Raymond Shaheen, pastor of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Silver Spring. A graduate of Susquehanna University, Rev. Mr. Shaheen received his theological training at Gettysburg (Pa.) Seminary, where he was graduated in 1940. He has conducted and participated in three study tours to Europe and the Near East and has conducted religious conferences at various colleges. Last spring Rev. Mr. Shaheen conducted pre-Lenten services at Kingsley Methodist Church here.

The committee in charge of making arrangements for the special service includes Rev. Louis L. Emerick, chairman, Rev. Robert C. Nimmon, Rev. Harold R. McClay, Rev. E. K. Sawyers, Rev. George Widmyer, Rev. B. F. Hartman and Rev. Samuel Carder.

Brush Fire Burns Out Of Control

A local resident who has a burning permit set a fire yesterday afternoon and had to call upon local firemen for assistance when the blaze got out of control.

Firemen at Central station received a call at 3:08 p.m. and dispatched firemen from South End station to 1112 Penhurst Street where C. L. Twigg had been burning brush. The firemen stood by about 26 minutes.

Pupils Visit Fire Station

First and second grade pupils at Corriganville School listen attentively as Oklen Geiger, right, first assistant chief of Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, explains the use of a smoke mask. The firemen invited the pupils and their teachers to the station yesterday in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

GOP Platform Discussed At Meeting Here

'Get Out The Vote' Campaign Scheduled

A discussion of the Republican national platform highlighted last night's meeting of the Young Republican Club of Allegany County at Central YMCA.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney of the county, led the discussion at the meeting which was attended by approximately 30 persons, including some "new faces."

The members decided to assist the Cumberland Women's Republican Club in conducting a telephone campaign a week prior to the general election in an effort to encourage voters to cast their ballots.

On the day of the election the young Republicans will be out in force in an attempt to get eligible voters to go to the polls.

They also decided last night to travel to Lonaconing in a body October 20 to attend a rally of the Republicans in that community.

Mrs. Nadine Gurley, vice president of the county unit, presided at last night's meeting in place of Fred H. Anderson, president, who was on a panel discussion at a church men's meeting.

The next meeting of the Young Republicans will be held on Wednesday October 26 at 8 p.m. at Central YMCA. Those interested in joining the group are asked to attend the next meeting.

ASC Ballots Must Be Mailed Today

The nearly 75 per cent of Allegany County farmers who have not yet returned their ballots in the annual County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee election were reminded by Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, ASC office manager, that ballots must be postmarked on or before midnight tonight.

Some 198 or 25.9 per cent of the 764 ballots mailed have been returned to the office at 37 Washington Street. ASC committees in five communities of the county are being elected by these ballots.

The five community committee chairmen will meet at the ASC office on October 31 to elect the county committee for 1961.

Without today's ballots, the vote is just about on a par with the level of 1959 when 199 out of 769 ballots were returned.

Docket Set For Criminal, Appeal Cases

Trials Start Monday In Circuit Court

One criminal trial and several criminal appeals are scheduled to be heard starting Monday morning when the October term of Allegany County Circuit Court convenes.

The lone criminal case, which is titled State of Maryland versus James G. Honeycutt and William L. Edwards on charges of breaking and entering, is scheduled to begin at 9:15 a. m. Monday.

The 17 criminal appeal cases will start when the criminal trial is concluded.

Honeycutt, 24, who is stationed with the Navy at Norfolk, and Edwards, 25, of Henderson Avenue, were charged in connection with the breaking and entering of the Spot Bar on Henderson Avenue on July 29. Merchandise worth $65 also was taken from the tavern.

The two men have been released on $500 bond each following a hearing August 1 in Trial Magistrate court where they were ordered held for action of the grand jury by Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

Assault Case Appealed

One of the appeal cases was filed by Raymond L. Judy, 30, of 7 West Second Street, who appealed a six-month sentence from a lower court on a charge of assaulting a local police officer.

Judy was found guilty on September 19 of assaulting Officer Merle Boggs. Judy was charged with pointing a loaded shotgun at Officer Boggs when he answered a complaint at the Judy residence.

The case also was heard in Trial Magistrate Court before Magistrate Barnett.

In an appeal case from Juvenile Court, Myrl Stanley Evans, 47, of Williams Road, appealed an 18-month term in the House of Correction imposed by Juvenile Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin.

Evans was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old girl last April.

Four other persons who received sentences at hearing in Juvenile Court also appealed the decisions handed down by Magistrate Fatkin.

Child Neglect Cases

These appeals were filed by Mrs. Margaret McMannus, 48, Westernport, and her two daughters, Mrs. Annie Myers, 27, and Mrs. Mary Ann Heier, 23, also of Westernport, who each received a one-year term for neglect of their children.

The other appeal was filed by Larry Mayhew, 32, Moscow, who also was ordered to jail for a year for neglect of his six children.

Other appeal cases scheduled on the October docket are titled:

State of Maryland vs. Thomas Lewis Jr., on a game violation; State vs. Clarence Lewis, game violation; State vs. Basil Lee Grogg on three motor vehicle violations; State vs. Myrtle C. Smith, motor violation; State vs. Cranston O. Newman, motor violation; State vs. Ralph E. Seaders, two motor violations; State vs. William W. Hyde, motor violation.

State vs. Hugh Stride Sr., motor violation; State vs. George W. Collins Jr., assault; State vs. Jacob Click Sr., non-support.

Former Area Man Killed In Baltimore

Robert R. Paugh, 36, Pinned Against Truck

A former resident of Parsons, W. Va., was fatally crushed Tuesday in Baltimore when the fork-lift truck he was operating backed into the end of a tractor-trailer truck.

Robert Richard Paugh, 36, who resided on Fountain Street, Baltimore, was pronounced dead on arrival at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday at Baltimore General Hospital.

Police said Mr. Paugh, an employee of the Chesapeake Paper Board Company, apparently failed to see the uncoupled tractor-trailer and backed into the parked vehicle.

The accident occurred in the rear of the company yard.

Mr. Paugh was born in Republic, Pa., and moved to Baltimore from Parsons seven years ago. He was a son of Mrs. Minnie (Keener) Paugh Black, Hendricks, W. Va., and the late William Paugh.

Surviving, besides his mother, are his widow, Verlie (Pennington) Paugh; seven children, Sharon, Louis, Brenda, Herman, Ellen, Gloria and William Paugh, all at home; three sisters, Mrs. Sylvia Cuppett, Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. Rebecca Evans, Lead Mine, and Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Hopkinsville, Ky., and two brothers, Earl, Baltimore, and Rancey Paugh, Youngstown, Ohio. He also is survived by his stepfather, George Black, Hendricks. The body will be returned to Parsons.

Navy, Marine Officer Test Deadline Set

High school seniors and graduates who are interested in earning commissions in the regular Navy or Marine Corps should send in their applications now to take the Navy college aptitude test which is the qualifying examination for the regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Deadline date for mailing applications is November 18, according to C. B. Epps, local recruiter for the Navy, who said the test will be administered on one day only, December 10, for the 1961 increment of the NROTC program.

The regular NROTC program, he said, provides education and training at 52 leading colleges and universities to fully qualified candidates selected for enrollment in the program. All tuition, fees and books are paid for by the Navy in addition to an annual retainer of $600 for not more than four years.

During the summers between academic years, the NROTC midshipmen go on training cruises to many parts of the world with liberal liberty in foreign ports.

Applicants must have reached the 17th birthday but must not have reached the 21st birthday on July 1, 1961. Those who score sufficiently high on the test will be scheduled to report to a Navy recruiting station for physical examination, interviews and preparation of an application file for consideration by a state selection committee.

Application forms for the test may be obtained from high school counselors, Navy recruiting stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, 25, D. C.

Cancer Chapter Seeks Reports

Researchers who are taking part in the follow-up survey being conducted by the Allegany County Chapter of the American Cancer Society are requested to turn in their questionnaires as soon as possible.

The follow-up survey is being conducted in connection with a long-range survey by the Cancer Society which will aid in the prevention and treatment of cancer. Some 174 research workers are taking part in the survey which is being conducted in Allegany County during the month of October.

However, the volunteer research workers are requested to complete the questionnaires as soon as possible and turn in the data to the local headquarters at 128 Union Street.

This is the final night for tryouts, according to Robert Boniece, director, who said the cast will include seven women, five men, parts for two children, twins or those who look alike, a 16-year-old and two girls, 15 and 17 years of age.

On Monday night about 15 persons including some "new faces" showed up for tryouts in the three-act comedy.
